BURLEY POOL VOTE RATIFIED.

Meeting of Burley Committee at Winchester, and Official Returns Show 103,000 Acres Pledged.

POOL IN HARDIN COUNTY.

Winchester, Ky., Oct. 2.—The District Committee of the Burley Tobacco Society met here yesterday and ratified the vote of the growers in their respective counties by officially declaring that the pool for the present year will stand. Official reports today show that 103,000 acres have been pooled and 93,000 acres remain unpooled. Growers will be allowed to pool for 20 more days.

The feeling is prevalent that unless there is a substantial increase in the amount pooled by that time the district will declare the pool off.

Good Prices.

Greenville, Ky., Oct. 2.—The hearts of the Muhlenberg county farmers were made glad when they learned of the action of the board of control of the Muhlenberg County American Society of Equity in selling the 1909 crop of tobacco.

The prices for the first five grades were $9, $8, $7, $6 and $5 per 100 pounds, respectively, and is regarded as the best contract that has been made for the farmers since the organization of the American Society of Equity.

There is already 65 per cent. of the tobacco raised in the county in the pool and the board of control today decided to reopen the pool so that every farmer in the county can come in. It is predicted that by October 20th the entire crop will be in the pool. The credit for the successful deal belongs in a great measure to J. J. Rice, a member of the board.

The Hardin Pool.

Elizabethtown, Ky., Oct. 2.—Six hundred and thirty-five acres of tobacco are pooled in this county up to last night by the Burley Tobacco Association. This is about 60 per cent. of the crop in the territory visited by the solicitors.

"WAY DOWN EAST"

at Macauley's Theater This Week
--Matinees Wednesday and Saturday--Popular Attraction.

One of the incidental features of "Way Down East" at Macauley's Theater, week beginning Monday, October 5, and also one of the most popular of the songs in the play, is the singing of the quaint old songs in the old act. This falls to the lot of the handsome, Rube Whipple.

The run of the rhymes which accompany it are very ancient, their origin having been traced back to the early part of the sixteenth century. Some have tried to fasten the authorship of the songs on Shakespeare and certain of the words in the song which Sir Toby Belch and his roystering companions howl out about the wassail bowl in "Twelfth Night," suggest a knowledge of the rhymes, but it seems more sure that they are of much older date.

M., H. & E.

Will Not Arrive at Madisonville This Month as Reported.

People who have been at the place where the M., H. & E. is to cross the river on its way to Madisonville say there has been no work done on the bridge, and only the material is on hand to build the bridge. They figure that if the M., H. & E. is now rushed to completion, which means the building of the bridge and the laying of eight miles of trackage, it will be doing well if the first train gets into Madisonville by the holidays. Current talk that the first train will get here by October 10 or any time in October is mere gossip, according to the authorities, and those acquainted with the situation claim there is no foundation for such reports.—Madisonville Journal.

HEALTH BOARD ORDER

At a called meeting of the Board of Health of Breckinridge County, held in the office of the County Judge, on October 2, 1909, the following order was made, to-wit:

The County Board of Health does not desire to create any useless disturbance or excite any unnecessary fear, but it has grounds to believe that there is danger of an epidemic of Scarlet Fever, if individuals do not exercise greater care in their conduct in those families where the disease is now. The law is strict on this subject and this Board proposes to carry it out to the letter.

Whenever any doctor has reason to believe that he has a case, it is his duty to exercise himself and cause the family to exercise the very greatest care not to permit others to come in contact with the patient. Whenever a doctor feels certain that he has a case, it is his duty to forthwith notify Dr. L. B. Moorman, County Health Officer, at Irvington, of such a condition and to immediately quarantine such persons or families and positively prevent intercourse with the outside world, such as will spread the disease. A red flag shall be raised in a conspicuous place so as to be a warning to those who might contract the disease. It is said the disease exists in certain localities in a mild form and that no care is taken to observe the law with reference to such cases. It is the duty of such parties to call a physician and take due precaution to prevent the spread of this form as it may break out in violent form in some other case.

Every man who is so unfortunate as to have this disease in his family owes it to society not to take any chances that may spread the disease among others. If the disease does become epidemic, it will literally ruin the schools of the county. The Health Officer is hereby positively directed to execute the law in this matter both as to doctors and patients, and this order is directed to be published in both county newspapers.

Given under our hands this October 2, 1909, Health Officers concurring.

L. B. MOREMAN, County Health Officer.

Davenport's Last Appeal.

Gentlemen of the Convention:

In offering my candidacy, I did it with a feeling of being a five dollar horse in a thousand dollar pool, but the steam roller has no terrors for me.

I have been a Republican from early manhood, believing in the union of the states and have an innate hatred of human slavery, not believing that men by a compact or by might had a right to enslave one race of people for the benefit of another. Our flag is symbolic of liberty. In the Republican party, I have always believed that it was the representative in this nation that is good for all people, whatever their condition, color or creed.

If the Republican party in Breckinridge county is to achieve triumph and progress, it must be a cohesive party, not handicapped by men who constantly use party for selfish ends. For forty-two years I have labored for the party in this and adjoining counties. This is the first time that I have asked for recognition, and, if I am turned down by men who arrogate to themselves the right to control and dictate, I can afford it if they can. But, there is one thing I can promise you, if you will nominate me and Gus Brown will send that card his picture is on over the three counties, I will defeat him, and that certain.

MR. TEAFF

Will Make Good and Will Probably Resume Business--Outstanding Accounts Forced Failure.

J. W. Teaff, of Hardinsburg, who has been in the mercantile business for years, and one of our best known merchants, filed a deed of general assignment of all his property for the benefit of his creditors to the Bank of Hardinsburg & Trust Company as Assignee.

Mr. Teaff was compelled to take this step on account of his inability to collect outstanding accounts which are owing to him, and his creditors were pressing him for their debts.

Mr. Teaff has property equal to if not in excess of his total liabilities, and it is likely that when his assignee is able to collect up debts owing to him that a satisfactory adjustment of his business affairs may be arranged and Mr. Teaff will probably resume his business.
